

Northern Lights in Japan's Capital: All-New Winter Festivities at Hotel Chinzanso Tokyo

Guests can see the “Forest Aurora” and two other brand-new light installations in Chinzanso Garden from November 12

October 30, 2024 - Tokyo, Japan - Hotel Chinzanso Tokyo has announced the launch of this year's winter events, including the annual “Forest Aurora”, beginning on Tuesday, November 12, 2024. These enchanting displays will transform the hotel's garden into a magical space with breathtaking light installations and two new highlights – the “Christmas Tree on the Water” and the “Crystal Snow Path”.

Featuring a mesmerizing light show that mimics the northern lights, the Forest Aurora has delighted visitors since it first started in 2021. This year, guests can experience the debut of the Christmas Tree on the Water and the Crystal Snow Path, two brand new illuminations that add extra holiday charm to the winter season. The Christmas Tree on the Water will be projected onto the mist above Yusuichi Pond while the artificial aurora borealis fills the sky with multi-colored lights, turning every evening into a winter fantasy.

Visitors can also explore the Crystal Snow Path, where snowfall is projected onto Chinzanso Garden's walkway. A snowman and footprints will appear in the snow, adding a playful touch to an evening walk through the traditional Japanese garden.

The Forest Aurora will be on display every evening throughout the event and uses advanced light projection technology to shine vibrant colors from six different directions onto the mist created by the Tokyo Sea of Clouds.

Additionally, visitors can enjoy Christmas decorations in the hotel lobby, Christmas and Holiday afternoon tea at Le Jardin, and a Year-End Buffet in the hotel's banquet hall. Guests who would like a more private experience can also reserve a special accommodation plan that includes breakfast and private night viewings of the Forest Aurora.

The winter garden displays run from November 12, 2024, to February 6, 2025. More information about the accommodation plan and other event details can be found on the official webpage.
